

New From Hopeful Press

Apprenticeship: Embracing Life and Practicing Humanity in the Way of Jesus

By Terry B. Kylo

The questions facing the human race are daunting:

- How do we understand and manage life and death as human beings?
- How do we live together despite the significant differences of our worldviews and cultures?
- How will we live on this planet in a way that respects the ecosystem and those who will live after us?

The questions facing the residents of first century Palestine were no less daunting. In the midst of Roman Occupation and Jewish despair that life could be different, Jesus of Nazareth drew a new vision for how to be human and how to live in human community. When he called them to follow this vision they could not help but follow him. Where was Jesus leading? Where would he lead today, if he were to walk the streets of our towns and cities? What is the heart of Christianity when for so many centuries it has been hidden under cross-embossed armor?

Apprenticeship is a re-imagining of where Jesus of Nazareth leads us as Christians and as Christian communities. Jesus invites us to embrace our human experience as it is because our lives are fully embraced by God. Being so affirmed in life, we are free to join Jesus in public, nonviolent leadership as participants in God's healing of the Earth.

About the Author

Terry Kylo is a human, a husband, a father of two, a pastor of an ecumenical partnership of 5 churches in the Skagit Valley of Washington State, and he does not live by bread alone.

Available in paperback
Your local bookstore
amazon.com
bn.com

Ebook editions
IPad
Kindle
Nook

ISBN 978-0-9845269-3-2

9 780984 526932

Web: www.terrykylo.com

Email: tkyllo@terrykylo.com